INDULGE YOURSELF WITH COLOR.

Color can be the ultimate form of expression and personality. Your home is an extension of your individualistic style, and the color you select for your garage door can make either a subtle bold statement. We're certain our collection of premium paint finishes will be an accurate representation.

Timberlane's Luxcore, Fusion, and Vintage Garage Doors are available in 24 colors that are selected to specifically complement your home – whether your preference lies within the more subdued, soft side of the color spectrum or you prefer to make a statement with bold, vibrant color, there's a color just for you. If you don't see something that immediately catches your eye, send us a sample of a color you have in mind and we'll custom match it.

*Don't see your hue?

Our state-of-the-art painting process features paint lines, and finely tuned curing ovens, as well as a climate-controlled environment to ensure that each garage door has a stunning finish. This pristine process creates a rich, lustrous appearance and long-lasting luster that protects against harmful UV Rays.

The color chips shown in this guide may vary slightly from actual painted garage doors. We recommend looking at a painted color sample before making your final choice. To better serve you when choosing a color for your custom garage door, we strongly recommend referring to each color's Light Reflective Value (LRV) rating and whether a color will be approved based on your project specifications. For all questions, please speak with a Timberlane Design Consultant who will gladly assist in your decision-making process.
